Want To Reply to Chinese

HEIR "BIG PUSH" STOPPED

Right Japanese Transports
Put to Flight and Land
Forces Repulsed.

By The Associated Press
SHANGHAI, Sept. 3.—The Japanese navy threatened to fire across American and other foreign transports tonight in a punitive bombardment of Chinese who hurried back Japan's "big push" and put eight Japanese transports.

Japanese naval spokesman declared Japanese ships would shift to positions to reply to the Chinese fire regardless of danger to American and other foreign ships.

A Chinese counter attack had just completed Japan's long awaited major offensive against Chinese troops about Shanghai. Military strategists acknowledged by Japanese general staff was forced to revise its plans.

Hit U. S. Marine Barracks

Shells smashed into the foreign communities. One of them struck the roof of the barracks of the second United States marine battalion, but failed to explode. It was a one-pound anti-aircraft shell of undetermined origin.

Two bigger shells plumped into bubbling Well road, one of them at the entrance of the world famous Shanghai Race club in the heart of the city. It wounded a British officer and two Chinese. Another fell next to the Italian consulate.

A heavy artillery shell exploded at the junction of Peking road and Shanghai's broad "Crossfire front" Chinese and Japanese batteries prayed about the U. S. cruiser Augusta.

Police estimated 11 persons were wounded, two seriously, by the shell which struck the foreign business district. Settlement authorities closed the broad and wavy road to traffic.

Six Hit By Shrapnel

Shrapnel fell over a wide area, including the section containing the British consulate. At nightfall, Chinese were wounded by shrapnel bursting over the French concession.

Two Japanese destroyers took positions tonight directly behind Japanese flagship Idzumo, not far from the Augusta.

Chinese machine gun nests at Peking, across the Whampoa from Shanghai, peppered the docks of Japanese warships which had sailed after the transports had laid down stream.

The Japanese were unable to reply effectively because the Augusta and other craft were in their range of fire.

By dusk, six Japanese naval vessels had steamed upstream from Woosung to reinforce the harried crews.

The United States supply ship Gold Star ran a gauntlet of shells to evacuate about 100 wives and children of American marines. The ship sailed for Kobe, Japan, it was the first American refugee to leave since bombardment of the Dollar line President Hoover Monday.

Expect Long War

The Japanese government prepared for a long war by drafting an emergency war budget of more than $600,000,000, more than Japan spent on the last Sino-Japanese war and the Russo-Japanese was combined. It raised the war total to $752,000,000.

An emergency session of parliament will consider the budget to morrow.

Japan moved to consolidate its control over the north China provinces of Hopeh and Chahar. At Peiping there were indications that the government of Japan dominated Manchukuo would be transferred to Peiping, with Emperor Kang Tei installed as ruler of the combined areas.

The Japanese navy spokesman at Shanghai charged Chinese with bombing and field artillery to bombard Japanese-occupied Hongkew without warning, killing many Japanese civilians and wounding two consular officials. This, he said, demanded definite Japanese retribution.

Chinese asserted that their severe shelling of the Japanese was in retaliation for the destruction of the rich Peking industrial area.

An evening fall, the effect of the Chinese fire was intensified and the barbed Japanese rushed their warships up the Whampoa from Woosung. They took up positions just off the garden bridge at the foot of the bund. An anti-torpedo net was thrown out around a 100-ton Japanese transport which has been the principal Chinese target.

FAMILY HAS SOLDIER IN ALL WARS

In the photograph above Franklin B. Scott of Wyandot is shown standing at the family burial plot in Grand Prairie cemetery. He and four relatives buried there have served in every American war.

Retired Sergeant of Wyandot Cares For Graves of Ancestor-Veterans Who Are Buried in Same Plot At Grand Prairie Cemetery.

By BOB BYRD

In a nearly kept family burial tract at Brush Ridge lie the bodies of four members of the Scott family, who with another member of the family now living at Wyandot, have served this country in every American war beginning with the American Revolution.

The family's military record is believed unequalled in north central Ohio.

The only person living in the group of five members of the Scott family who contributed to the unusual war record is Franklin B. Scott, 56, a retired first sergeant in the United States Army, who gives the buried places of his military forefathers the care and frequent attention they deserve.

Mr. Scott, a resident of Wyandot in southern Wyandot county, plans to be buried on the family tract with the bodies of his four relatives whose life stories form a history of American wars. His grave marker is already placed on the family lot.

The Scott family lot also contains graves of other relatives of Mr. Scott. Including the resting place of his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Scott, who was the first person buried in the picturesque Grand Prairie cemetery which now contains several hundred graves.

Lewis' address will be broadcast by a radio network (CBS) from 9:30 to 10 p.m. (E. S. T.).

See Third Party Threat

The inaction of his character recalled his statement at the end of congress criticizing the Democratic leadership. It was interpreted by many congressmen as a threat of a third party in 1940.

Sen. Lundeen, Farmer-labor of Minnesota, predicted a national labor party in the next presidential election.

Lewis said he also will talk about the bloody steel strike of the early summer and mention some of the public officials who betrayed their trust and used the forces of government against labor.

His speech will be the first of a series of week-end oratorical efforts by labor leaders which may set forth further policy in the struggle for supremacy between the CIO and the American Federation of Labor.

William Green, AFL president, will speak at Dallas, Tex., Monday. Other labor leaders who have arranged holiday speeches include John Frey, AFL metal trades chief, and John Brophy, CIO director.

Miss Perkins To Speak

Secretary Perkins will issue a general Labor day statement Sunday.

The year since organized labor observed its last national holiday has been one of the most trying periods in its history.

Besides the steel strike the CIO conducted an active campaign in the automobile and textile fields and drove a wedge into AFL domination of national maritime unions.

Both Lewis and Green claim a membership of about 3,000,000 workers for their organizations.

As activities of these factions increased, the national labor relations board came into new prominence. It has drawn charges from AFL members of CIO "bias." Currently it is under attack from the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, an AFL affiliate, for invalidating a closed shop agreement the union made with the National Electric Products Corp. of Ambridge, Pa.

Election Ordered

The board ordered an election to determine whether this union or the electrical workers union, a CIO group, shall represent the employees.

Dan W. Tracy, president of the AFL union, predicted yesterday the action meant another supreme court test of the Wagner labor act.

Among the major cases now before the board are a group arising from the steel strike.

Cases are under way against Weirton Steel Co. at New Cumberland, W. Va., Republic Steel Co. at Canton, O., and Inland Steel Co. at East Chicago, Ind. The Weirton case, however, did not arise from the steel strike.

CIO steel workers also have filed complaints against the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co.

KARPIS HELPER GIVEN PEN TERM AND FINE

Anthony Amersbach sentenced at Toledo for kidnapping Kidnap Gang.

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 3.—Anthony Amersbach of Cleveland, today was sentenced to serve two and a half years in federal prison and costs by Federal Judge Frank L. Kloeb on the charge of harboring the Barker-Karpis gang of kidnappers.

Amersbach revealed to the court he had served 10 years in Ohio prison for auto theft and three years of a 25-year sentence in the West Virginia state Prison at Moundsville for armed robbery.

He told the court he had met Alvin Karpis and Harry Campbell, members of the gang only once, when he entertained them at a party in the Twilight Club in Cleveland.

West Virginia prison officials have set a border on Amersbach but the prison probably will have to consider his federal prison term first.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 3.—Jacqueline Cochran of Indo, Calif., swooped over Cleveland airport at 1:33 p. m. (E. S. T.) today at the finish of her 2,042 mile flight from Burbank, Calif., in the Bendix trans-continental derby inaugurating the annual national air races. Her elapsed time was 10 hours, 29 minutes.

Pending arrival of six other starters in the race, for purses totaling $28,000, the winner of the derby could not be ascertained.

Miss Cochran, flying a Beechcraft with a wasp junior motor, was the only woman entrant.

10 and Half Hours Record

The record for the distance in the Bendix event is 8 hours, 32 minutes, set by Benny Howard in 1933.

By completing the event Miss Cochran, wife of Floyd B. Oldham, head of the Atlas Corp., collected $2,500 in prize money. Her average speed was 194.4 miles an hour.

At 1:34 p. m., Miss Cochran took off for Bendix, N. J., in an effort to collect an extra $1,000 from establishing the best time from Burbank to Bendix among today's seven contestants.

Her elapsed time to Cleveland automatically shut her out of the $2,500 prize money offered to the first flier.

ability of advancing the regular 1910 10-year census to 1938 with view to counting at the same time the number of persons out of work.

A more frequent federal census, he said, would provide much valuable information, particularly in connection with administration of the social security act.

While Mr. Fletcher attended to preliminary census matters in Washington, his secretary, Edward C. Wiede, arrived in Marion yesterday and began preparing the new congressional office in the postoffice building for the use of Mr. Fletcher, who with Mrs. Fletcher is expected to arrive in Marion Wednesday.

The new congressional offices were constructed as part of a $40,000 enlargement project for the Marion postoffice recently completed. Three rooms are provided for the use of the congressman, including one for the congressman, a waiting room and a room for storage of records.

Mr. Fletcher plans to remain in Marion following his arrival Wednesday excepting for a tour of the district to be made this month or next to meet Eighth district residents who have had correspondence with him about federal matters.

He has a number of speaking engagements planned. On Thursday he will speak at a Democratic rally in Findlay. On Sept. 19 he will speak again at Findlay at River side park at 2 p. m. at an outdoor meeting.

The entrance to the congressional office in the postoffice building is on the west side of the postoffice on the basement level, the second door north of the south corner of the building. The entrance leads to the waiting room where Mr. Wiede's desk is located. An office south of this is to be used by the congressman. The record storage room is north of the waiting room.

THEATER AD BOOERS CONQUER IN COURT

But Battle of Boos Against Movie Loudspeakers Ends in a Draw.

By The Associated Press

TIFTON, Ga., Sept. 3—Embattled Tifton boozers were boozier but happier today after beating an anti-boozing suit in court and whooping through to a draw against the movie loudspeakers in the local theater last night.

Herman Hill, druggist who is spokesman for local No. 2 of the Society for the Easing of Commercial Advertisements in Motion Picture Theatres, promised a slightly sound-swept public more and better booz tonight and tomorrow until the offending ads are curtailed or vanished.

The battle of the loudspeakers burst unexpectedly last night while the boozers were celebrating withdrawal by the theater of a damage and killing of a temporary anti-booz injunction granted last Friday.

"The booz started mighty shaky," Hill said, "because since Friday the movie has been full of 'cos."

"But the boozers warmed up slowly and some of the audience chimed in. Then, bingo! They turned up the sound equipment to full volume and everybody joined in."

"There was so much noise you couldn't tell the boozing from the advertising and vice versa."

Also victorious yesterday was the Tifton Gazette which had been enjoined from printing any more ads for local No. 3. The Gazette scored from the other side yesterday when the theater ran a newspaper ad in defense of screen ads.

From Little Rock, Ark., where the boozing movement originated several weeks ago, came word of rejoicing and fresh claims of gains in the boo-boo drive.

EXTRA IRON LUNGS READY FOR PATIENTS

By The Associated Press DENVER, Sept. 3—An adequate supply of mechanical devices to combat infantile paralysis brought a measure of confidence to doctors and parents of this region today despite the victory claimed by the disease.

Two extra mechanical lungs were available today to prevent recurrence of the appalling situation which developed Monday when 24-year-old Shirley Krause and Mayette Outcalt, 15, both required treatment in the only mechanical breather in the Rocky Mountain area.

The Outcalt girl, although she had been given almost exclusive use of the device, died yesterday. Her death followed by only a few hours an overnight race by plane and streamlined train to bring the additional "lungs" here.

13-YEAR-OLD WIFE BECOMES A MOTHER

By The Associated Press SEVIERVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 3—Thirteen-year-old Lula Bell Hurst, who said she married at the age of 12, was the mother today of a nine-pound son.

Her husband, Willard Hurst, 25, has not seen the baby.

"I've heard he is over in North Carolina, but no one seems to know where he is," Dr. R. J. Ingale, Sevierville physician, said.

The young mother said she quit the third grade in 1925 to marry Hurst.

He has a number of speaking engagements planned. On Thursday he will speak at a Democratic rally in Findlay. On Sept. 19 he will speak again at Findlay at River side park at 2 p. m. at an outdoor meeting.

Tommy Manville Wants Fighting "April" Lawyer

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 3—There are 20,000 lawyers in New York and Thomas Franklin Manville Jr., of the gray hair and gay heart, wants one to set one of them—an "April man."

He put a full page advertisement in a morning tabloid paper today which read:

"Wanted, an attorney, Tommy Manville, box 1502, New Rochelle, N. Y."

The remainder of the "ad" was just white space, but Tommy expanded verbally.

"He must be an April person," went the specifications. "Because I was born in that month and such men have warlike horoscopes. There is nothing like an April man when there's war to be done."

That meant, he said, "a smart lawyer who will throw firebrands and stinkpots when he has to, promptly and efficiently."

As might be suspected by those acquainted with the off-hand career of the dandy heir to millions, the boozing started mighty shakey," Hill said, "because since Friday the movie has been full of 'cos."

"But the boozers warmed up slowly and some of the audience chimed in. Then, bingo! They turned up the sound equipment to full volume and everybody joined in."

"There was so much noise you couldn't tell the boozing from the advertising and vice versa."

The Stars Say—
For Saturday, Sept. 4.

THE ASTRAL forces governing the affairs of this day may be said as conflicting, since there are signs of much important activity both in the business and private lives. But there are certain omens of defeat and victory, with loss of funds and property, unless discretion and good judgment be brought to bear in such situations. The chief trouble may be attributed to violent conduct.

Those whose birthday is today find themselves in a year which in their individual cleversome, resourceful and good manner will overcome some adverse and doubtful situations. While there are factors for success and advancement, yet a violent, erratic or peasant type would be hazardous to commanding opportunities. Self-restraint and tactfully should be born on this day may have a good disposition and won favor and favors from those in power, but it should be trained and disciplined against sudden outbreaks of temperance or eccentricities. It may be clever and ill-tempered.

MARION BOYS HELD IN HARDIN COUNTY

Accused of Burglaries at McGuffey and Near LaRue.

Two Marion boys were being held by Kenton officials today in connection with four burglaries in McGuffey and three others in the vicinity of LaRue. Juvenile court officials here said the boys probably will be brought to Marion next week after the return of Judge Oscar Gust from his vacation.

Sheriff Lloyd Norman of Hardin County held both boys admitted that they broke into three homes in and near LaRue recently to steal clothing, but denied the reported theft of jewelry and $7 in money. The burglaries were reported by J. H. Hall, O. M. Phelps and Hazel Halas.

The McGuffey burglaries include those of the Erie railroad depot with nothing taken of the James Jams grocery, $16 in money and $9 in merchandise missing. Chaffin's garage and Mack Alstine's filling station where merchandise of small value was taken.

Juvenile court officials said both boys had been in court here before on truancy charges. They were arraigned near Mt. Victory yesterday on suspicion.

Plans to launch a membership drive on Sept. 10 were made at a meeting last night of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the club rooms on East Center street. The quota for the drive is to be fixed and details of the campaign mapped at the next board meeting before the drive.

The Junior Chamber has approximately 50 members at present. Since the meeting last night was principally social in nature with card games and refreshments, no details of fall activities were planned.

ACE SPEED PILOT CRASHES TO DEATH ON EVE OF AIR RACES

Lee Miles, well-known veteran speed pilot from Ft. Worth, Tex., was instantly killed last night when his speeding plane lost a wing over the municipal airport at Cleveland, during a test flight of his ship after failing to qualify earlier in the day. The speed ace was rocketing his ship along at an estimated speed of 280 miles an hour and flying only about 400 feet from the ground when the left wing suddenly ripped away and sent his ship

Farmers from This Area Win State Fair Awards

Horses, Sheep, Poultry and Cattle Judged Best at Annual Agricultural Exposition.

Exhibitors from surrounding counties carried off choice prizes in the Belgian horse, sheep, poultry and cattle competitions and the Union County team won first place in the 4-H club general live stock judging contest yesterday at the Ohio State fair, according to a news report from Columbus.

Final events of several week-long contests came up for decision today, including the naming of Ohio's healthiest 4-H club boy and girl and the determination of both the senior and junior sheep shearing champions.

Only six entrants remained to be judged in the health contest out of nearly a hundred chosen to represent their counties. Unless any of the six were found to be near-perfect physical specimens, the honors were scheduled to go to the pair rating highest among those already judged. The Dovers, 18, of Columbus Grove in Putnam county, and Dennis Ondrej, 16, of Kunkle in Williams county.

Governor Martin L. Davey said today that he favored a building program for the fairgrounds and that he would "in all probability" bring it before the special session of the legislature this fall. The Associated Press reported. The governor, however, said his statement should not be construed to mean that he was in favor of all the proposed changes.

Special Guests
The press and exhibitors were special guests at the fair's last day today as a climax to what fair officials predicted would be a 400,000 attendance exposition. Approximately 80,000 persons were on the grounds yesterday.

Members of the 4-H club first-place team from Union county were Paul William Roeger of Marysville; Richard Schmidt Jr. of Plain City and John E. Kandel of Marysville.

Warren Cline of Marion county won third place with two pullets and one cockerel in the White Rock chicken competition.

Other winners in the poultry show from the vicinity of Marion were as follows: Three White Leghorn pullets, Eugene Grant of Fredericktown, first and third; three Barred Rock pullets, Bobby Allen Thomas of Radnor, first and second; two Barred Rock pullets and one cockerel, Bobby Allen Thomas of Radnor, first and second; three White Wyandotte pullets, Carl McCurdy of Ashley, first; Eugene Grant of Fredericktown, second; two White Wyandotte pullets and one cockerel, Carl McCurdy of Ashley, second. Your Health BY DR. H. S. COPELAND

Refrigeration

Recently I watched a mechanic repair a mechanical refrigerator. Looking into the machinery I was impressed by the tremendous strides made in improving this common household appliance.

Mechanical refrigeration is now available in most sections of the country. This makes a great change in the household custom of former years, when its use was only an outward sign of luxury and limited to the very wealthy.

Of course, refrigeration is of greatest importance during the summer months. It is absolutely essential in the home when children, and particularly the infants, must be protected against spoilage of food. Modern refrigeration has helped prevent many of what used to be the common summer disease of early life.

It has made possible the preservation of food and the avoidance of contamination and spoilage. This means the protection of the health of every member of the family.

Everyone knows the dangers of warm temperature in its effect upon perishable foods. When these are allowed to decompose, "toxins" or poisons are produced. These poisons are just as dangerous as those which are traced to the germs of infectious diseases.

The refrigerator also protects food from contamination by dust, flies and other insects which may carry the germs of serious ailments. Nothing can be worse to health than leaving food in the open.

I am often asked which is the best type of mechanical refrigerator. This is entirely a question of individual choice. All the modern devices are constructed for the greatest possible protection of food.

By refrigeration the foodstuffs are kept at a regulated and even temperature, about 50 degrees F. or less. The temperature in a well-made refrigerator, provided the door is kept shut, should be maintained at a definite level and will not fluctuate to any considerable extent.

When mechanical refrigeration was first introduced there was some danger because of the chemicals used in the machine. But these defects have disappeared. All refrigerators are now passed upon by trained experts before they are placed on the market. Consequently, the purchaser is protected in every possible manner.

(by Hulbert Footer) SUNDAY Wealthy, bushy-haired Baltimore girl, engaged to a young federal agent who loves her. Rushing to Abalone's Harbor, he boards the yacht and finds a locked cabin. Fanning, she and Janet, all three, had been here. All three had been up the river. Back at the village he resumes his fisherman role to watch developments. Mac Bonniger, a keen local man, is called in to lead the murder investigation. Kettering, a Baltimore lawyer there to sick, offers to introduce Neil.

CHAPTER SEVENTEEN

Everett Beckton.

BONNIGER, Wilson and Virgil were soon on the store porch, bailed Bonniger with his "famous" heartiness, and went up to Neil to be introduced. Both men shook hands with Neil reluctantly but let it be seen that they had other things on their mind than that will spoil the fishing. And Kettering humorously said, "Of course we've got to hold our jaws hands at such a time

"Good God! It's Prescott Fanning!" cried Kettering. "I didn't know he had a yachti"

"What do you know about him?" asked Kettering. He related it.

"From New York," said Bonniger. "He must put out lines there. The rest is only Baltimore gossip. Can't you give me something particular about the man?"

Kettering shook his head. "I didn't know him at all. I saw him everywhere, but I haven't spoken to him above three times, and then only to pass the time of day."

"Well, we have established his name. That's a beginning," said

Anti-Japanese Feeling.

GRASSHOPPER of anti-Japanese feeling in the United States is a vital fact in international relations—more important in some respects than the aggressive military campaign causing it.

Prejudice threatens to make Americans blind and deaf to whatever arguments Japan may adduce in support of its Chinese policy. Indeed, prejudice already has gone so far as to shut out the thought that Japan may have valid arguments to offer.

Even if the Japanese case were to be presented perfectly in such a way as to get a complete hearing in the United States, it still would not carry conviction, because it is based on a philosophy which Americans do not understand.

There is, first of all, an assumption of the right of power in establishment of an oriental empire. Americans, whose own tentative experiments with empire building were abortive, are incapable of sympathizing with other powers proceeding realistically with their programs.

Japan, with an economy based on development of markets and sources of supply by the use of its disproportionately large military arm, is trying to preserve and extend that economy in the only way possible. Wrong it may be, judged objectively, but by its own standards it is as right as a man who steals bread to feed his hungry family. It must live; to live is to fight, in Japan's case.

The natural accompaniment of Japanese policy is an attitude that seems to Americans to be like nothing so much as arrogance, but to Japan is merely self-confidence founded in conviction that the Japanese view of nations' destiny needs no apology. Americans need only to recall the Spanish-American war to understand how easily a nation can rationalize a policy under emotional stress which later can be defended only firmly by logical reasoning.

The acute friction which it is feared, may develop some day over exploitation of the Pacific area if Japan's claimed sphere of influence is threatened by American and British encroachment aggravated by the current crisis. It is indicated that neither Japanese nor Americans, despite their record of amicable relationships, possess the groundwork for looking at each other's national policies sympathetically.

The tragedy of the aggression in China, from this point of view, is that it threatens to tune up popular opinion preponderantly in advance of any direct issue. Though it is hard to believe Japan yet has discovered any valid reason for being critical of the United States, which has leaned over backward to be moderate, certainly Japanese have given little attention to maintaining even an attitude of acceptance for their policies in nations whose official friendship they have not yet sacrificed to ambition for empire.

Getting into Shape.

IT'S TIME to get into shape for football. Don't try to do everything at once. Start out easy by yourself and a companion, preferably about 40 pounds heavier and six inches wider, trying to sit on a kitchen chair at the same time. Later use two companions, all three getting up and sitting down at the same instant.

When the bruises and sprains have cleared up, place the kitchen chair in a cold shower bath and try to keep yourself and the chair dry. Repeat, later on, in the meat cooler at the butcher shop, using a blanket and an overcoat.

Turn up the radio to full volume and try to yell louder than Nelson Eddy and Grace Moore. This will bring on laryngitis, but it had to come some time.

Get a set of field glasses and practice watching ants on the sidewalk at the far end of the block. This teaches concentration and helps to steady the nerves.

Read what all the sports writers have to say about everything, then disagree with them. This will save a lot of money before the season's over.

Don't envy football players too much. They have a tough time getting ready, too. Occasionally, they even break bones and are laid up for the whole season.

Self-Patter Next.

THIE North Carolinian who built a self-kicking machine for his personal use and generously is letting other reproachful residents of his community use it free of charge should give his inventive genius another spin.

A man capable of rigging shoes on the spokes of an old wagon wheel to stimulate a kick in the pants when the fellow needing it pulls a lever should have a snap fixing up a self-patter. Instead of shoes, gloves could be fastened to the spokes of a wheel. A patter motion, instead of a kicking one, could be worked out.

On the whole, there's more need for the patter than the kicker, it being universally recognized as true that volunteers always are turning up for the latter, but patters nearly always must be drafted, which casts doubt on their sincerity.

On the Record

Step by Step We Move To Impoverish the U. S.
Through New-Fangled Socialistic Tendencies.

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

NEW YORK, Sept. 2—Step by step we move systematically to impoverish the United States by socializing the worst policies of monopoly capitalism. For some fantastic reason this policy has the support of people who call themselves liberal and lean toward socialism. This, in spite of the fact that socialism presumes an economy of abundance, and the whole case against capitalism, particularly against finance capitalism, is its control of the market, and monopoly's habit of artificially creating scarcity to maintain high prices and high profits. This, in spite of the fact that the very thesis of economic liberalism is that prices should be fixed by consumers—by the demand of the people—and not by organized producers.

The latest step is in connection with the cotton loan. The cotton crop is magnificient; the yield per acre is extraordinarily high, the world demand enormous. But we have promised to loan the planters nine cents a pound, and to grant additional cash subsidies to bring the net price up to 12 cents. Thus, however, in return for the pledge that congress, at the next session, will pass a law restoring government crop control. We don't know just how a law is to be passed which will be constitutional, in view of the decision on the AAA, but that, of course, has almost ceased to be a consideration.

The subterfuge, with some irony, is to be taken from a fund put aside from tariff revenue to promote agricultural exports. The production control program which the beneficiaries have plunged themselves into, to nationalize the production of cotton, so that it can be produced profitably at a low price, is guided by a providential government that penalizes everybody else to keep the price high.

Who Is To Judge?

The theory back of the loan and prices pegged by government subsidy, is that a large crop automatically means a low price, in a free market. Mr. James Boyle, professor of rural economy at Cornell University, has published figures which definitely refute this. He shows that the price of cotton is fixed in world markets, by two factors, the size of the world's crop and the demand of the world market. The cotton crop was low in 1921 and the price was high. It was low in 1922 and the price was highish; it was high in 1924 and the price was relatively higher than the relative increase; the crop increased in 1925 and the price decreased. But in 1927, the crop was enormous, and this bumper crop

Today in Washington

Economic Fallacy of Cotton Control Plan of New Deal Brings South Nearer Financial Ruin.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3—Sometimes it takes years for facts to overtakes government propaganda and for a government policy to be thoroughly "deconked."

Politics, of course, was still in the seats of government, never admit anything they do is wrong, and, when a policy is being discussed, squirm a bit and then shift the blame, trusting always to their 100 per cent ionizers to defend them blindly or help camouflage the mistake.

The most colossal error of the new deal was and is its belief in a policy of restricted production and price-fixing.

Today the south—stronghold of the Democratic party—faces economic ruin unless the doctrine so scilously taught the southerners by the new deal is reversed by the Roosevelt administration.

This situation has come about through the subsidy paid out of the federal treasury to keep the price up by restricting the amount planted.

The supreme court of the United States, although not concerned with the economic or legislative wisdom of government policies, but their constitutionality, gave the new deal an "out" when the AAA was held invalid, but the new deal didn't take it, and, at the next session of congress, Mr. Roosevelt plans to go ahead with crop control, believing he now has a majority of the supreme court with him.

But what has been happening in the last three years in the supreme court of world economics?

Eight years ago, the United States had 63 per cent of the world export of cotton. Today, it is 44 per cent.

Back in 1928, and for the five years preceding, the world bought 8,300,000 bales a year of American cotton.

Today, the annual volume of cotton exported by America has dwindled to 3,400 bales, and there are at least 1,000,000 persons unemployed in the south.

Others Benefit

Where has our market gone? By pegging the price beyond the true economic level, we handed a big slice of our trade to countries which had never produced cotton at a profit but which could now easily make a profit at the artificially price set by the United States government.

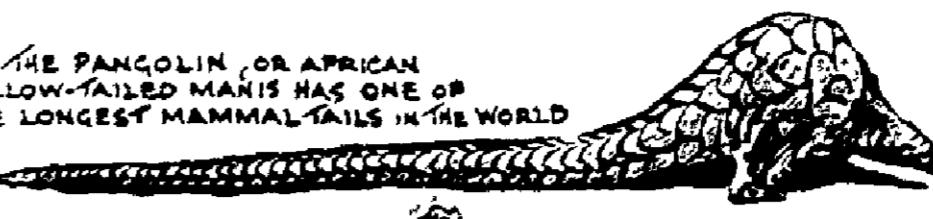

Brazil is a case in point. She produced only 375,000 bales in 1929. Now she is producing annually about 1,500,000 bales. Other countries have been stimulated into production, too. Our high prices have created new competitors, just as a lower and lower price, with larger volume for America, will gradually

HOOVER PARLEY PLANS ARGUED

G. O. P. Chiefs Approve of Mid-Term Conference Idea. Others Opposed.

The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 3—Herbert Hoover's suggestion for a "mid-term" convention of the Republican party has caused a sharp division of opinion among leaders of the nation, many favoring it and others definitely in opposition. The Hoover thought, toed into the middle of eddying discussions over party policies and strategy, accumulated discussions over party leadership and "whether or not to split" among the Republicans, the national committee and women, and the state and county chairman.

A nationwide survey by The Associated Press today brought expressions from leaders of the party in 28 states. The Hoover proposal seemed to find favor with state and county chairman at least 15 well known members of the national committee said they approved it. Other committee members were varyingly lukewarm, many wheelhorses refused to comment.

Landon Silent

All Landon, similar head of the party, had no comment, but opposition came from Frank Todd, Kansas Republican state chairman.

Mr. Todd said he did not favor a national "grass roots" convention. He believes organization by precinct superior.

It was apparent from some replies that a feeling exists in some quarters that the holding of such a gathering on the Hoover say-so might project the former president into actual party leadership.

Said Henry S. Caulfield of St. Louis, last Republican governor of Missouri:

"I do not think it is advisable for him (Hoover) to take the leadership in calling any party meeting. He is a very fine man, but I don't think at this time he has the confidence of the public."

Believing, evidently, that the Democratic fireworks in the last congress were symptomatic of an incurable split, many Republican prominent threw cold water on the suggestion advanced in some G. O. P. quarters that anti-Hoover Democrats should be invited into the party fold.

Want No Change

Keep the party, they said, on the bed-rock of its fundamental principles; let the Democrats alone and stay away from movements to change the name or principles of the Grand Old Party.

"I see nothing at this time to cause the Republican party to become jittery," said Perry W. Howard, national committeeman from Mississippi. "I am opposed to the pre-convention."

"I am opposed to any reorganization of the party or change of its name or any coalescence with any group that will in any way affect its fundamental principles."

National committeemen and women who said they agreed with the Hoover notion, at least in principle, included Ned Creighton and Mrs. Wilma Royal of Arizona; T. J. Kennerly of Alabama; John F. Harris of Florida; Harrison E. Spangler of Iowa; Hugh Butler of Nebraska; Charles A. Jonas of North Carolina; Harvey C. Jewett Jr. of South Dakota; J. Will Taylor of Tennessee; George W. Snyder and Pierpont Wood of Wisconsin.

bankruptcy, and admit it, planned economy is a system of bold economic suicid. It eventually—and the sooner the better—must change the direction of its planning efforts."

The experts then go on to condemn the policy of restriction and place the United States in the same category with the totalitarian states and Russia in imposing barriers to trade and exchange. The truth is the United States went nationalized under the Hawley-Smoot tariff law, and now under the new deal, though a few reciprocity agreements have been put into effect, Mr. Roosevelt is at heart as nationalistic as any of the rulers of the totalitarian countries who believe political strength is best maintained by government price fixing, government subsidies, and an indifference to the law which says that production of larger and larger crops, better distribution of the earth's wealth through loans or commodity exchanges makes a better world to live in, with less threat to democracy and less chance of war than a system of domestic rationing or allotment with its inevitable counterpart—regimentation and fascism.

As if to cap the climax of new deal folly, there comes a press dispatch from Rome, where the International Institute of Agriculture is meeting. The institute, composed of agricultural experts of a dozen nations, says there must be freedom from interference by government with the laws of supply and demand if the world is to achieve economic recovery. The statement says:

"Unless the world is to acknowledge utter intellectual and moral overflowing, are to pile up even more. The consumer is to be protected by the government in releasing these surpluses if the price goes too high. Yeah? When do prices go too high? Who is going to decide? The farmers? The representatives of the farm vote? They are going to vote to lower the price by releasing surpluses? Because of the protests of unorganized consumers? Name the time.

There's another point. (There are many other points.) If scarcity happens and prices are high in a non-controlled market, the fine price mechanics set all the forces in motion which adjust the conditions. Grains, for instance, are shifted from feed-mangers into flour mills. Consumption becomes more thrifty; supply more eager. All this is upset by the ever-normal grainary machine at everybody's cost.

Naturally, the bureaucratic control will be tremendously increased, and naturally there will be, in high markets, all sorts of attempts to circumvent the control by every sort of skulduggery and political corruption. We might remember prohibition. There will be fines, imprisonments, espionage of neighbor on neighbor, and eventually, probably, "G" men.

Planned economy means economic nationalism. We can't plan for the whole world, or even for ourselves in relation to it. Economic nationalism (according to one wing of this administration, that represented by Mr. Hull), means general impoverishment and further incitement to war. See Germany, Italy and Russia. It also means, in the long run, the end of democratic government. It means the subjugation of economics to politics. We'll get rid of the economic royalists to supplant them by political royalists—with the police and the army in their bands.

PENSION CASE ENTRY APPROVED BY COURT

Way Now Cleared for Appeal of Case To High State Tribunal.

Third district court of appeal yesterday approved the entry of its recent decision in the suit of Arthur D. Lillie, retired city fire captain against the city, making it possible for the city to proceed immediately with plans to carry the case to the state supreme court along with the companion suit of former Police Chief James W. Thompson. The entry contains a list of the appellate court's decision which held that city council's abolition of the firemen's pension system last year was valid.

A similar entry was filed earlier this week in the police pension case. City Solicitor Ralph E. Carr said he will file notice of appeal and a motion asking the supreme court to certify the records in the case within the next few days.

If the supreme court overrules the motion, the case is ended and the pension system will remain in effect. If the court sustains the motion, it will hold a hearing and render a final decision, Mr. Carr said.
